The Anchors was busy welcoming participants for our regular programming as well as some informative sessions in March. The AARP volunteers provided much-appreciated tax preparation for dozens of Edgartown older adults. We hosted an illuminating presentation on Social Security, and we filled up the lunch room for our festive St. Patrick's Day celebration.

Our weekly bowling crew had fun competing at The Barn in Oak Bluffs, and our journaling program continued to bring people together for some creative writing.

We were advertising and interviewing candidates for the ECOA cook position this month, and we were impressed by the talented group of applicants we met. We offered the position to longtime island chef Chris McMahon, and he will begin his position in early April. Our participants showed up in large numbers to enjoy some of the last lunches that Diane Wall prepared for the ECOA, and we worked together to plan her retirement celebration.

The ECOA Board welcomed new member Lisa Sherman to a three-year term. Ms. Sherman is the director of the Edgartown Library and she brings a wealth of municipal and community knowledge to the position.

Shellfish: Submitted by Rob Morrison:

During the month of March 2023, fishermen experienced a continued strong harvest of bay scallops from Cape Pogue Bay. Although the bay scallop harvest was steady during the month of March, the wholesale price dropped after the new year. A commercial oyster season took place in Sengekontacket Pond during March. This oyster fishery is created by the Shellfish Department's oyster propagation program, now in its tenth year. Sengekontacket Pond also saw one of the largest populations of adult bay scallops in several years. Several commercial limits of bay scallops were taken from Sengekontacket per week by dip net, during the fifth month of the commercial season.

Recreational fishing for shellfish species including steamer clams, quahogs, bay scallops, and oysters took place in all Edgartown bodies of water open to fishing.

Commercial Shellfish Landings March 2023:

Bay Scallops : 775 Bushels

*Wholesale value of Bay Scallops landed during March 2023 estimated at: $69,750

Oysters (Sengekontacket): 38,600 pieces

*Wholesale value of Oysters landed during March 2023 estimated at: $11,580
